THE FARMERS OF THE COUNTRY ARE IN COMPLETE CONTROL OF THE SITUATION

This year and next will be the highest the farmers have ever had. Heretofore the farmers have been at the mercy of the speculator. Today the farmer is in complete control.

One and only one danger threatens him. It is the danger of scarce and high money. High money will not hurt. He can stand high money. His profits are large. His danger is scarce money and no money. Our first duty is to our country. Our government must be financed. The people should and will do it. The money loaned to the Government, whether by purchase of bonds or certificates, is withdrawn from the present at least from the available cash to be loaned to other people, including, of course, farmers.

Last week call money in Wall Street jumped to 6 per cent. more than double the rate in April and nearly four times the rate in February 1916.

Mark my prediction—Before January 1st, 1918, the farmers of the country will be scrambling for money on any terms.

In view of all this, we are making farm loans on the same liberal terms as heretofore; no increase, no changes. But nobody knows what tomorrow may bring forth. Today is the only day we can promise. No financial concern is making promises for any other day than today. If the money you owe now is soon due and it takes all your year's surplus to pay your debt, what are you going to do to start next year's crop with; buy stock and run your farm? Are you sure that money will be plentiful next year, or the next or for years to come? Are you sure you can borrow from your neighbor, or your bank at a low rate of interest, on easy terms, on long time? Two of the Insurance Companies have already withdrawn from the loan field, until after the War; others may follow.

If you need money to pay off your lien notes, if you need money to operate your farm, if you are in debt, or if you want to buy more land, and want money on easy terms with attractive payments, protecting you against war prices or depressions in the money market, I would like to talk to you? It costs you nothing to investigate. Call and see me, drop me a line, or telephone me.

POSTMISTRESS CONFESSES

A Livingston dispatch to the Lexington Leader says:

A warrant was sworn to before United States Commissioner George C. Moore, at London, Thursday, charging Mrs. Bessie McClure at Livingston, with rifling the mails.

For the last several months numerous packages addressed to persons at Livingston and offices distributed out of Livingston had been failing to arrive at their destinations. As most of the articles missing were toilet articles, lace, jewelry, hosiery, and such things that would strike a woman's fancy, suspicion was directed toward a woman.

June 18 Postoffice Inspectors prepared packages containing hosiery, jewelry, etc., and mailed them to Livingston on trains entering there between 12 o'clock noon and 6 p. m., during which time Mrs. McClure is alleged by the authorities to have been alone in the office. It is said after her departure the office was searched and none of the packages could be found. When asked about them and confronted with the facts she made a full confession, the inspectors aver.

Bowel Complaints in India

In a lecture at one of the Des Moines, Iowa churches a missionary from India told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventive and cure for cholera. You may know from this that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occur in this country. Obtainable everywhere.

Another of the men charged with getting fire to tobacco warehouses in Mayfield five years ago must go to prison. The Court of Appeals affirmed the Graves Circuit Court, which sentenced G. R. Allen, tobaccoist, to serve one to six years for burning the warehouse in which he and his partner stored tobacco. Lee Perkins confessed and implicated four others including Allen. Judge Clarke wrote the opinion.

United States District Attorney Thomas D. Slattery made affidavit on which a warrant was issued for Dr. John Fritz, held by Federal authorities at Louisville, charging him with impersonating an officer of the United States army. It is alleged that he procured $5 from Percy Reid, of Richmond, in that manner.

Handsome engraved announcements of the marriage of Mr. Wesley Dunn Embury, of this city, to Miss Louise Keatingham Thomas, of Frankfort, have been received by friends here. The marriage occurred at The Seelbach, Louisville, Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Embury will be at home at Frankfort to their many friends after August 1st. The groom, who is known and liked by everybody in this section, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Embury, of Stanford. He has held a position in a State office at Frankfort for several years and is not only an excellent business man but a fine fellow. His bride, who was visited here, is an exceedingly pretty girl and is very popular in her home. The good wishes of their many friends here and elsewhere go out to them at this happy period of their lives.

Livingston performing the ceremony. A report had reached Stanford that they were to marry that day, but when A. J. representative approached Mr. Gover on the subject at the Masonic celebration he gave such an evasive answer that he really fooled him. Although they had the same name, Mr. and Mrs. Gover are not blood kin, but they have known each other for many years and the story goes that they were sweethearts in the long ago. For the present they are domiciled at Mr. Gover's home on the Lancaster pike, but Mrs. Gover declares she must go back to Lexington when her son, Shirley, returns to college there. The groom is well known by many of our readers. He is an energetic, thrifty farmer and is boarding up a good deal of this world's goods by close attention to business. He is an exceedingly clever gentleman and has lots of friends who are congratulating him on winning such an excellent wife.

Mrs. Gover attended college here years ago and made friends who still admire her. She was Miss Maggie Davis, the only daughter of the late Alfred Davis, of Crab Orchard. He was a splendid citizen and right well his daughter followed in his footsteps. The Interior Journal is proud of the friendship of both Mr. Gover and his bride and joins their many other friends in wishing them a happy and useful journey over the sea of life.

RED CROSS AT HUSTONVILLE

On last Sunday evening a company of Red Cross workers from this city went to Hustonville to organize a chapter there. The union service was held in the Christian church. Mr. Wm. Severance, Lincoln county chairman, made an address on the Red Cross work. Mr. P. M. McRobert and Mr. K. B. Akorn spoke on the value of the Red Cross work and the opportunity it offers each individual to "do his bit." Rev. A. H. Baugh, pastor of Christian church, Rev. Brandenburg, pastor of Baptist church, also spoke on the subject. The Hustonville people were very enthusiastic. The officers elected were: Mr. Charles Wheeler, chairman; Mr. Charles Adams, vice-chairman; Mrs. Kate Myers, secretary and Mr. William Tinscott, treasurer. They started with a membership of forty-three, but it remains to be seen whether they will outdo Stanford, as they threaten, or not.

TO THE PUBLIC

PATRIOTIC ENGINEER

John Clark, engineer no. 27 and 28, the train that runs daily between Louisville and Richmond, always carries a couple of United States flags on his engine. He made his usual run Sunday with the stars and stripes flying as usual.

LIKES THE TAR HEEL STATE

Mr. John Lutes returned last of the week from Goldsboro, N. C., where he spent two months with his son, Mr. Charles Lutes, who is doing splendidly. The elder Lutes is very much impressed with the Tar Heel State and if he were younger Stanford would lose a good citizen to that State. While away Mr. Lutes traveled over a good deal of North Carolina and was both surprised and pleased to find it such an agricultural section. Near Mt. Olive, 14 miles South of Goldsboro, he met a farmer who had just about completed the digging and storing of 10,000 barrels of Irish potatoes. The potatoes were grown in rows four and a half feet wide with a row of cotton between them. He says that growing cotton can be sold at 26c. Mt. Olive is in a great gardening section. 250,000 cubs of beans, peas, strawberries and potatoes will be shipped from there this year. Mr. Lutes also visited Kingston, 26 miles East from Goldsboro. He was there at a barbecue, which he says was one of the biggest things he has seen in a long time. "The people are the most hospitable I have ever met and just can't do enough for the visitor who comes among them," he said. For the barbecue 21 shoats had been prepared and fish by the barrel cooked. Lager beer and cigars were as free as the air. Everybody had a good time and perfect order was preserved. Mr. Lutes met Sheriff Edwards, of Goldsboro, and was very much impressed with him. He describes him as a big-hearted big man, who loves his friends and does his duty under any and all conditions. The potato crop is a big one around Kingston and the yield is from 80 to 90 barrels per acre. They are now selling at $8 to $10 per barrel.

MR. JULIAN G. ALLEN DEAD

The little city of Millersburg sustained a heavy loss when Mr. Julian G. Allen died suddenly Saturday. Heart trouble is believed to have caused his demise. He would have been 74 years old had he lived until September and most of his long life had been spent in the Bourbon county town which he made better by having lived in. For many years Mr. Allen was president of the Millersburg Deposit Bank which he saw grow from a small institution to one of much importance. Some 30 years ago his wife was called hence, but five children, whose affection for the good father was most beautiful, survive. They are: Mrs. Owen Inceles, of Millersburg; Mrs. Louis Rogers, of Bourbon county; Sanford M. Allen, cashier of the Millersburg Deposit Bank; Ed Dorin, of Memphis; and Mrs. Jesse M. Alverson, of Georgetown. Mr. Allen was a devout Baptist and for years a leading member of the Millersburg church of that denomination. He was a kind and indulgent father, a Christian gentleman and a model citizen. His loss will be felt all over the section of the State in which he lived and where he wielded influence for good. The burial occurred Sunday afternoon in the Millersburg cemetery after services at the home by the Baptist minister, Rev. Goldstein.

MR. BASTIN A HUSTLER

An Interior Journal representative had the pleasure of going through A. H. Bastin's place of business at Lancaster Monday and he was both surprised and pleased to see what a comprehensive stock he carries. Everything in the building material line is found in his stock, from the smallest finishing nail to the highest grade shingles, plastering, brick, and in fact everything that an up-to-date lumber yard could have. Mr. Bastin is a Lincoln county product and for a long time did a big mercantile business at Crab Orchard, while running a large saw mill near by. Associated with him in business at Lancaster are his sons and the style of the firm is A. H. Bastin & Sons and they make an exceedingly strong team. They buy all of their lumber direct from the long leaf pine belt of Louisiana and their shingles from the coast. By buying this way these nonular gentlemen are able to get their goods so much cheaper than if they bought them from a jobber.

TO PASS ON EXEMPTIONS

Boards of Exemptions to pass upon claims of exemption from the army draft in Kentucky, appointed by Gov. Stanley were announced by the War Department. The board for Lincoln county is Dr. E. J. Brown, Sheriff J. G. Weatherford and County Clerk G. B. Cooper. For Boyle it is Dr. F. H. Montgomery, J. B. Nichol and W. C. Gentry. For Garrard, Dr. J. M. Aton, B. B. Brown, Jr., and R. T. Ballard; for Casey, Dr. I. S. Wesley, G. W. King, and W. C. Cundiff.

MRS. MARSEE BADLY HURT

While attempting to pass another machine the auto of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Marsee, of Hyattsville, Garretts county, was overturned. Mrs. Marsee suffered a fractured hip and possibly internal injuries, while Mr. Marsee escaped with minor injuries. They were taken to Lancaster for treatment.

DEATH OF MRS. PARRISH

Mrs. Mary A. Parrish died at her home at Crab Orchard Sunday, aged 69, and was buried at Ephesus Church Monday after services by Mr. J. C. McClure. Her husband died last year, but seven grown children are left to mourn the loss of a splendid mother.

LIGHTNING PLAYS HAVOC

J. H. Scarbrough, of the Geneva section, sustained a considerable loss by lightning the other day. A good four-year-old mule, a seven-year-old mare and her colt were all killed by a bolt, while the animals were sheltering under a tree. The three fell dead in a heap.

10,000 PEOPLE ENJOY

MASONIC CELEBRATION

A crowd estimated at 7,000 to 10,000 attended the Masonic Celebration at Crab Orchard Springs Saturday and enjoyed to the fullest the speeches, the music, the good fellowship and lastly but not least, the dinner. It was the biggest day in the history of the East End capital and one which will be remembered with pleasure in the years that are to come. The occasion was the 200th anniversary of the founding of the order of Masons and most fittingly was it celebrated. Crab Orchard Springs was chosen as the place for the celebration for several reasons, first of which is it is in the home county of Grand Master J. N. Saunders, secondly, because it is centrally located and thirdly because it has hotel accommodations for all who might attend and a typical place for such a gathering as the Masons knew they would have. That they chose wisely is shown in the fact that the crowd surpassed all expectations and everything passed off beautifully. It was the most orderly, best attired big crowd that has gathered in Kentucky in years and nothing was said or done to in any way mar the pleasure of either the promoters or the thousands who attended. Three cheers for Grand Master Saunders, his local committee, composed of J. W. Acey, chairman, J. S. Duke, H. G. Skiles, J. G. Weatherford, W. M. Matheny and Dr. M. M. Phillips, the management of Crab Orchard Springs and Crab Orchard people generally. They did a great deal toward making all feel that it was good to be there and to bind closer the bonds of friendship that has existed for years. Three splendid brass bands made music for the crowd. Smittie's Band, 35 in number, was the official band, but the Danville Military band and the one composed of the little boys from the Orphans' Home delighted the hearers almost as much as did the big city organization. The dinner was great. Jesse C. Lynn, as caterer, had all arrangements perfected and when word was sent out that dinner was ready, the throng flocked to the tables which had been set near the Field Spring, and which were laden with the best burgoo, roast beef, bread, coffee, etc., mortal man ever tasted. There was enough for all, and everybody enjoyed the picnic dinner hugely. The program printed in the Interior Journal of last week was carried out to the letter, save that Rev. Stephen B. Lander, Grand Chaplain, was detained at his home at Bloomfield, and Dr. D. M. Walker, of Shelbyville, was called on to open the exercises with prayer. His prayer was beautiful and impressive and very appropriate of the occasion. "The Star Spangled Banner" was played by Smittie's Band, after which Hon. G. Allison Holland, member of Lexington Lodge No. 1, the oldest Masonic lodge West of the Allegheny mountains, spoke. As usual his effort was greatly enjoyed. Just after dinner Miss Katherine Warriar, of Hustonville, favored the great crowd with a vocal solo, which pleased her hearers so greatly that she gave another.

Miss Warriner has a strong voice of wonderful sweetness and responds graciously when called upon to sing. Fred Drexler, of Louisville, and Mr. George Colvin, of Louisville, spoke during the afternoon and each brought an interesting message to their brother Masons and friends. Hon. James N. Saunders, of this city, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, was master of ceremonies and "led the place creditably and satisfactorily. Except while speaking was going on, one of the three bands played continuously and there wasn't a minute of the big day that something wasn't doing. It was well arranged all the way through and the local committee has cause to feel that it did its work thoroughly and well. Over 3,000 Masons were at the celebration and nearly that number registered at the Crab Orchard lodge rooms. Each member of the Crab Orchard Masonic Lodge constituted himself a committee of one to do all in his power for the delectation of the visitors and right well each and every one succeeded. Between 3 and 4 o'clock the crowd began to disperse and it did so just as orderly as it came. There were over 1,000 automobiles and there wasn't a wreck or anything like one in town. Each driver seemed to realize that he must keep a cool head and he did so. The only wreck that occurred going or coming that this paper has heard of occurred several miles this side of Crab Orchard, when Mr. J. B. Hoar's car was run into. It was accidental and this paper is glad to state that the clever gentleman was not badly hurt. In the afternoon Grand Master Saunders called for any physician on the ground to report to him, and this caused some uneasiness until it was told that one of the girls from the Orphans' Home was a little sick. She was attended by Dr. Boslev, of Richmond, who was the first to report, and in a few minutes she was enjoying the day as much as the rest of her comrades. 100 strong, who were given the trip of their lives to the big celebration. There was no misbehavior and no drinking on the grounds and if a harsh word passed the lips of a single one of the 10,000 or more present nobody can be found who heard it. The day cost the Masons of Kentucky close to $3,000, but it was money well spent. It got together Masons from all parts of the State and showed to those who are not members of the great Father order that the bond of friendship and brotherly love existing between Masons is as beautiful as it is lasting and that to be a Mason a fellow has got to be a Man.

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC

As was stated in the Interior Journal last week, I have sold a half interest in my store, The Lincoln Pharmacy, to Mr. A. J. Borders, of Burnside, who will be with me after July 1. It will be necessary to square up my books and I ask that those owing me to please settle with me by cash, check or note. We will be glad to carry on our books those who pay their accounts promptly and ask a continuance of the liberal patronage heretofore given me. Thanking all for the past trade and courtesies and soliciting a continuance, I am very truly, J. W. Acey. 51-11

MISS GENTRY CALLED HENCE

Miss Clark Gentry, aged 20, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Gentry, out on the Hustonville pike, at 4:30 Sunday morning after an illness of five weeks. She had not been in good health for a long time and a few weeks since underwent an operation. For a while it seemed as if she would get well, but a turn for the worse came and for nearly a week before her death she was unconscious. The burial took place in Buffalo Springs Cemetery after remarks by Dr. M. D. Early at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. A very large number of friends were present and the floral contributions were both numerous and beautiful. Dr. Early's remarks were appropriate and touching and must have carried home to the hearts of all of the parents and others who loved the young woman so dearly. Death at all times sad, is peculiarly so when it comes to those in the very prime of life. Unbounded sympathy is felt for the parents, sister and brother upon whom the blow falls the hardest. May a merciful God give them strength to withstand their irreparable loss.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS

The Germans announce the capture of a French position on a front of about one mile. They also took 300 prisoners. They have been unable to advance further, despite furious attacks, according to the official French communication, which says that 1,200 shells were dropped.

Disorders again have broken out among the sailors of the Russian Black Sea fleet at Sebastopol. They are reported to be connected with the retirement of the commander of the fleet, and propagandized by reactionary forces. The trouble is not believed to be serious.

All thoughts that Russia may conclude a separate peace must be set aside, declared Albert Thomas, French Minister of Munitions, on his return to Paris from a trip to Russia. An offensive by the Russian army, he said, is both a material and moral possibility.

In Volhynia and Galicia, the Russians have begun a strong bombardment of the German positions and, it is believed, that this will finally result in a determined offensive against the Teutons. In France the Germans have lost heavily in furious attacks upon French troops, while operations on the British front have been brought to a standstill by unfavorable weather.

The amalgamation of the American Clearing House at Paris, one of the chief institutions for handling the supplies furnished by America, with the American Red Cross has been decided upon by Gen. Pershing.

The French have retaken the greater part of the territory north-east of Vauxaillon which the army of the German Crown Prince, re-enforced by picked men, captured last week. The German War Office asserts that in the Champagne district the French have been compelled to evacuate ground recently taken from the Germans. Gen. Haig's forces in France and Belgium have, it is stated, effectually put down enemy raids. The Italians, in the Cordole Valley region, successfully checked an Austrian offensive and inflicted heavy casualties.

Belgium and Russia united at the tomb of George Washington in paying homage to the American patriot and to the spirit of liberty and freedom which his memory incarnates. Lively scouting operations between the Russians and Austrians in Galicia are reported from Petrograd, and bayonet fighting occurred at Presove.

Lens is being gradually hemmed in by British forces, which would shut off a great coal field from the Germans. Successful raids have resulted in the capture of 400 yards of trenches in the western part of the city.

By the narrow margin of less than twenty feet, an American trans-Atlantic liner proceeding from an American to an English port, escaped being struck by a torpedo aimed at her by a German submarine. American gunners on board the liner sighted and fired upon the U-boat, but whether their shells reached the target could not be ascertained. Only the quick and skillful maneuvering of the liner saved her from destruction.

THE RED CROSS CAUSE

It is said that the requirements of modern warfare have made it necessary to provide a medical man for every hundred soldiers, whereas the old apportionment was three medical men for every fifteen hundred, or proportionately one doctor for each five hundred. The medical man without aid would not be able to do much by way of relieving the suffering, and the means of administering relief must be furnished from the pockets of the same people that furnish the means of making war. Those who have bought Liberty Bonds have done so probably with a dual motive in view: they had a safe investment and they were helping to supply the sinews of war. But when they give up money for the Red Cross they do so without any selfish motive. It is an unconditional gift for the relief of suffering, and those who give may be sure that their donations will serve some real need. In this issue we present an article which tells of the marvelous growth of the Red Cross organization and its work, how carefully its funds are watched to keep out any form of fraud, and how every dollar is made to do the work of a dollar. This should inspire people to give to the limit, for it will be needed. A Canadian newspaper recently fell in to the hands of the editor, and it was a melancholy sight to see column after column of names under the head of "Killed in Battle." These were the names of Canadian troops, and there were many others listed as wounded. It may not be many months before American newspapers will be printing just such lists. And when that unhappy day comes it will be of some comfort, perhaps, to know that you have contributed your bit to the relief work.

The recent registration for selective draft disclosed the almost unbelievable fact that fully 30,000 of the men between the ages of 21 and 31, in a total of 187,753 in the State, can not read or write. With free schools everywhere it would seem that everybody would be able to secure the rudiments at least of an education, but it seems that a compulsory school law will be necessary to make parents appreciate the importance of educating their children. In order to enable drafted soldiers to learn to write letters to their families and to read letters from them, Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart proposes to call on volunteer teachers to help remedy a most deplorable state of affairs by giving the illiterates a chance to learn. If she is successful in her undertaking it will be another feather in the hat of this splendid woman, who has done so much to relieve Kentucky of the stigma of illiteracy.

It is said that the republicans are figuring on success in many Legislative districts this year because more democrats have joined the army than republicans and all the negroes will be left to help them out. They are therefore putting out candidates where they would not have thought of it under other conditions. The mere statement of such a hope ought to put democrats to work as they never have done before to prevent the republicans from profiting from a lack of patriotism on their part.

When it comes to securing volunteers to man the State and Federal offices, Carroll county steps to the front and secures more than her quota, but when the call for volunteers to fight for democracy in the world war is made, they are neither there or thereabouts. That indefatigable newspaperer for the Cincinnati Enquirer, Thomas B. Cromwell, is authority for the statement that only two volunteers for the army have shown themselves so far in the good county of Carroll.

The Elizabethtown News takes the shape-up in Kentucky University to mean that it is the deep, dark and damning attempt of Gov. Stanley to run it as a part of his political machine, to be used to further his ambition to be elected United States Senator, and as usual takes a fall out of the governor. It does not require much strain on the memory to recall that this same paper used to be so bitter against Beckham as it is now against Stanley, and those who do so will put little credence in its criticisms. All of a sudden it went over to Beckham camp, won they do say, by a little flattery from the Beckham chief booster that its editor ought to run for governor, while at the same time holding up the prize to McChesney. Since then Sommers has taken himself very seriously and imagining that he is a factor in politics, but he is slated for a very severe jolt.

When the Kaiser reads that when this government asked its citizens to loan it two billions of dollars to help prosecute the war against autocracy, they responded with $3,035,226,850, he will realize that we mean business and never intend to let up till he either goes as King Constantine and the Czar have done or complete his finish at the end of a rope. The days of kings and of war lords is nearly ended and the people carrying the proud banner of Democracy are forging to the front.

The militant suffragettes continue to stand before the white house displaying objectionable banners. Some of them were arrested the other day and all of them should be placed in the lock-up. This is no time for foolishness and these women who would unsex themselves should be given no more consideration than men. They not only do not help the cause of female suffrage but actually hurt it. Kentucky suffragists long ago expressed their condemnation of such tactics.

One W. J. Deboe, of Crittenden county, has filed the declaration of his candidacy for state senator. Wonder if this can be our old friend who slept through one term as United States Senator. If so, we would warn his constituency that knowing his propensity to sleep they had better let him do it at home, where naught will disturb his peaceful slumbers.

Senator Stone, who left Kentucky for Kentucky's good, says that newspaper criticism tends to impair the efficiency of public officials. Not so in his case however. His own innate narrowness destroyed him. The newspapers simply narrated the story of the burst bubble.

After raising three billion dollars for war, the matter of raising a hundred for the Red Cross seems an easy matter. The large cities have started after it with a vim, and the smaller cities and towns will do their full share.

The agricultural department recently announced that it had discovered nine more weeds that can be used for food. Let us hope however that they are not as bad as parsnips and carrots or we shall have to pass them up.

RED CROSS BUTTONS

All persons who have paid fee for membership to the Red Cross may have their buttons and membership cards upon application at Dr. T. W. Pennington's office. There is a large supply of these buttons, so if you have not joined do so today. Every one is proud to wear the little button of the Red Cross.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Use "Gets-It," Lift Corn Right Off

Shrivels, Loosens—and It's Gone!

"Just like taking the lid off—that's how easy you can lift a corn off your toe after it has been treated with the wonderful discovery, 'Gets-It.' Hunt the wide world over and you'll find nothing so magic, simple and easy as 'Gets-It.' You folks who have wrapped your toes in bandages to look like hunches, who have used salves that turned your toes raw and sore, and used plasters that would shift from their place and never 'get' the corn, and who have dug and picked at your corns with knives and scissors and perhaps made them bleed—just quit these old and painful ways and try 'Gets-It'!

Just once. You put 2 or 3 drops on, and it dries at once. There's nothing to stick. You can put your shoe and stocking right on again. The pain is all gone. Then the corn dies a painless, shriveling death. It loosens from your toe, and off it comes. 'Gets-It' is the biggest selling corn remedy in the world today. There's none other as good.

'Gets-It' is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Stanford and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by The Lincoln Pharmacy and The Penny Drug Store.

Miss Sadie Card, of Pineville, is the guest of Mrs. C. Hays Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mershon of Lebanon Junction, have been with relatives here.

Miss Lucile Walker, of Shelbyville, has been the guest of Miss Eddie Bruce Baughman.

Dr. R. L. Davison is practicing his profession—dentistry—at Waynesburg for a week or so.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rnnkin, out on Route No. 2, are the proud parents, of a little daughter.

The police chief of Indianapolis and six others were convicted of conspiracy to defraud in an election by a jury in the United States District Court there yesterday. Sentence will be imposed later.

Opponents of street improvement in Danville procured an injunction restraining the council from awarding contracts for the construction of permanent streets in that city. Lower Tire Cost Than Ever—NOW

For, in the old days, tires not only cost motorists more per tire, but were also so far inferior to the present product, that the final cost—the cost per mile—was from 50 to 100 or more per cent. higher than you pay now.

United States Tires—the 'Royal Cord', the 'Nobby', the 'Chain', the 'Usco' and the 'Plain',

- one for every need of price and use,
- produced by the largest rubber manufacturer in the world,
- produced by the most experienced tire manufacturer in the world,
- produced by a time-tried, exclusive, patented, vulcanizing process,
- produced of only the most carefully selected materials,
- have so far eclipsed every other make of tire that
- United States Tires are famous for their mileage-giving qualities—their low cost per mile.

The proof?—the consistent and persistent tremendous sales increases of United States Tires.
